To whom it may concern:

I can't praise Marc Smith of Essence Custom Homes, enough. Through many new construction and lot transactions in Houston, I have found his company to have the highest standards, in workmanship and integrity. The finished product is not only beautiful, but has added tremendous value and prestige to the neighborhoods.

As a builder, Marc strives very hard and succeeds in giving his client the very best in service and attention. Because of his many years of experience, he is able to devote quality and personal "hands on" time to each project. This not only applies to the construction process, and importantly, after the new homeowner has closed.

It is a pleasure to work with Marc, as his Real Estate Broker.

Please feel free to call me anytime.

Very Best Regards,
